Santa Clara Valley Amateur League

A parade of the ten teams in the Santa Clara Valley Baseball League will be held in the streets of San Jose Saturday night. Banners and flags will be in evidence and each team will be dressed in uniform.

Sunday the season opens. The local team will play at Palo Alto and we hope they knock the stuff out of those "Model City" boys so there.

Congregational Church, August 1.

The theme for Sunday morning will be the third of a series of morning talks: "Can a Man be a Good Citizen of this Country who Ignores or Neglects the Church and what It Stands For?" In the evening will be a Stereopticon Song Service. Come and help sing your favorite song.

You will find our meetings Bright Brief and Brotherly. Live Topics and a cordial welcome for the stranger. If you have no other church home, you are invited to worship with us while you are in town.

Geo. E. Atkinson, Pastor.

Methodist Church, Sunday, August 1.

Morning Topic, "A Great Victory" 1 Cor. 15-57. Evening Topic, "The Strait Gate" Mat. 13-14. This is our hospital Sunday. Let all who can plan to go and help this choice missionary work. League led by Mr. Alison.

A cordial welcome to all.

JOHN F. KELLOGG, Pastor.

A CONTINGENT ASSET.

The Court Didn't Appoint a Receiver to Administer It.

A woman's way of getting around trouble, especially her ability to answer a question without giving any information, is well known, particularly to the members of the bar that have had occasion to cross words with her on the stand. A woman with a well developed sense of humor once foiled the persistent attempt of W. G. Chapin, late editor of the American Lawyer, to elicit information in supplementary proceedings. He tells the story of the failure himself.

"I had been admitted to the bar but a short time and was a fair specimen of the average theory stuffed, practice wanting, law school graduate. How joyously were the commands of the managing clerk obeyed! Here was the looked for opportunity to demonstrate my ability in the noble art of searchingly examining a recalcitrant witness, a woman!

"Of the two, I fancy, however, that it was the lady who was more self possessed when the proceedings opened. She was a dressmaker and had been sued for debt by a dry goods firm. The examination dragged its slow length along, revealing no assets, until finally came the omnium gathering query asked as a finisher.

"Have you any property of any kind or nature, real or personal, or any right or interest in property that you have failed to mention?"

"Perhaps it was my tone she disliked. At any rate, her eyes snapped. 'Well, I've got what perhaps you wouldn't call an interest, but it's almost as good. It's an expectation. Must I answer?'

"If you please, I was encouraged. 'Well, you see, it's this way. I've got two sisters, and both of 'em have married finely. Now, neither one of them begins to be as good looking as I am.'

"Yes, she had me puzzled. 'Well, I really don't see why I shouldn't have the same show.' 'It is needless to say that there was no receiver appointed to administer this asset.'—Chicago Record-Herald.

It Had a Charm.

"I do miss Mrs. Jones. She told me all the news of the parish." "Oh, that was only gossip—no truth in it."

"Well, there, I liked to hear it. Truth or lies, 'twas all news to me."—Punch.

Notice to Fruit Growers.

Notice to fruit growers of Campbell and vicinity. We have the agency of many of the largest canneries and commission merchants of San Francisco, Oakland and Los Angeles. We will be in position to handle a large portion of the green fruit in this section. As we will not have a regular agent in the field, it would be well for the growers to call on us before disposing of their fruits.

Local Items of Interest

Happenings of Interest of Campbell and the Neighborhood

The Masons held regular session Monday night.

Mr. Palmer entertained a housefull of guests, Sunday.

Saturday night the cannery worked until midnight.

Mr. Fred Smith is entertaining a party of relatives this week.

Mr. Arthur Preston is in Eugene, Ore., doing carpenter work.

Ed. Waite left to register for government land in Idaho last week.

Mrs. Rubell and daughter returned Sunday from a trip to Monterey.

The editor has been having his teeth "yanked" and it's no joke either.

Mrs. Turnbull and son from San Francisco are visiting the Rodeck family.

The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. Poor on Wednesday, August 4th at 2:30 p. m.

The apricot rush is practically over, the bulk of the crop having already been picked.

What has that Interurban Committee, composed of Messrs. Shelly Thomas and Whitman, done?

Mrs. Mary Eddlemon, of Newtitan, San Joaquin Valley, is visiting her son, J. H. Eddlemon.

A regular meeting of the Farmers' Co-operative and Educational Union will be held to-night.

A. W. Smith has secured a good position in the machine shops of the Sierra Ry. at Jamestown.

L. L. Archibald, from Fresno, spent Wednesday night a week ago, with his brother, H. V. Archibald.

Mr. Lanz and family leave for a camping trip to Lagoona, Santa Cruz County, Saturday. They will be gone about two weeks.

Miss Josephine Moulton has been appointed to take the place of Miss Brown as teacher of English and History in the High School.

Miss Alice Joy, who has been assisting at the Coffee Club this summer, left Saturday for King City where she will teach this coming year.

I am sorry to note that the family of Mr. Randall have left Campbell for good. They returned to their home in Santa Monica Wednesday.

The High School will either open the last Monday in August or the first Monday in September. The date has not been decided as yet.

A car of fruit cans was received at the cannery last week and the whole carload was found defective. The manufacturers refuse to take them back.

Quite a number of people have complimented the fine appearance of the Press of late. Thank you all. Such interest is incentive enough to make work lighter and more happily done.

A house for Mrs. Palmer, who recently returned to Campbell, is being built next to the Langley cottage. Mr. Beacock is building the house.

Mr. Rubell will shortly leave for Hollister where he teaches school. He has been teaching there for some little time and likes his work there very much.

The regular meeting of the Grange was held Tuesday night, during which the Third and Fourth Degree were initiated. After the meeting refreshments of ice-cream and cake were served in the banquet room.

Mr. Hagelin and family have left for Seattle where they will take in the exposition. Mr. Hagelin has a dual purpose for going at this time; to see the exposition and to attend to his extensive mining interests in the north. He does not know when he will return.

Herbert Gard had all of his clothes, with the exception of his working suit, stolen from his tent during Monday night while he was asleep. His watch and other valuables were taken also. The thief entered the tent sometime during the night and left no clew.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Ringe have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Range and daughter of Missouri, showing them the life of California. Mr. and Mrs. Range are delighted with Campbell. They came to California with a party of Elks and will return via the exposition at Seattle.

Something of Interest

Some of the Many Things in the Farm Life of Our Neighbors

There are a good many little details in the ordinary life of a farmer which would astonish many. Mr. F. E. Trigg, of Rockford, Ill., has written several very interesting articles, some of which are reproduced here. These articles are copyrighted by the American Press Association.

OSTRICH FARMING.

Ostriches were first introduced into the United States by a Dr. Protheroe in 1882, and today as a result of the increase of this first flock and subsequent importations the number has increased until there are several thousands located in some half dozen ranches distributed in Arizona, California, Florida, Arkansas and North Carolina. Until lately the birds have been raised largely for exhibition purposes, but with the establishment of the big farm at Phoenix, Ariz., which now has over 1,000 birds, the industry was taken up on a commercial scale. While the birds mate for life at four years old, they do not breed satisfactorily until six or seven. A pair will produce from ten to twenty chicks a year, each being worth at six months $100, at a year $150 and at three from $300 to $350. A prolific pair may fetch $1,000, and exceptionally fine single birds have been known to bring this amount. The feather output for a year varies from $35 to $50. The first plucking is made at nine months, but is of little value. Succeeding crops are taken every nine months. The nest of the ostrich is a crude affair, being a hole three feet across and a foot deep in the sand scooped out by the breastbone of the bird. The usual clutch of eggs is twelve to fourteen, the weight ranging from three to four pounds each. The eggs are turned daily and hatch in about forty days. The male bird assists in incubation, going on duty promptly at 5 in the afternoon and remaining until 9 next morning. When hatched the chicks are about as large as a common hen, growing in height at the rate of a foot a month until seven or eight feet tall, when they weigh from 300 to 400 pounds.

LIVE STOCK LOSSES.

The Crop Reporter for April contains some interesting statistics on the losses in farm animals from exposure and disease for the year ending March 31, 1909. The loss from disease in horses was 1.8 per cent, being one-tenth of 1 per cent greater than for the year preceding and a like per cent less than for the ten year period. The loss in cattle from disease was 1.9 per cent, the same as for the year before, and the average for the ten year period was 2.1 per cent. For the corresponding periods the losses from exposure were 1.5, 1.2 and 1.8 per cent. The loss in numbers from both causes were 2,419,276 head. Four states bore one-third of this entire loss—Texas, 404,524; Iowa, 151,994; Nebraska, 131,104, and Kansas, 106,225. The loss in sheep was 2.7 from exposure and 2.8 from disease, the total number from both causes being 3,081,148. The loss in swine was 2,761,358, entirely from disease, the chief losses being as follows in the big hog producing states: Iowa, 427,000; Nebraska, 293,000; Missouri, 228,000; Illinois, 200,000; Indiana and Kansas, 155,000 each, and Texas, 115,000.

A family of Elks came out to Campbell the other day to inspect the town. Their name was Hutchinson and they were from Council Bluffs. Mr. Preston took them through the cannery and the orchards around Campbell, which was a very novel experience for the visitors, who stared as much as the proverbial farmer in a big city.

Wednesday evening a good thrashing was administered to some young bully who had been insulting the girls in the cannery, by a boy about half his size. A bunch of cowards, friends of the bully, lit onto this plucky young man, and when he ran, hurled insulting names at him. Better be careful of your actions youngsters. You might pick up the hot end of it some day.

THE AUDITORIUM AT A.-Y.-P. EXPOSITION, SEATTLE.

Probably the most striking structure on the grounds of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition is the Auditorium. It is built of reinforced concrete, steel and brick and is a part of the rich legacy which is to be handed down to the State University when the Fair is over.

The Auditorium stands upon an eminence overlooking the main entrance to the Exposition Grounds. It is now in use as a lecture room by the University Law School and for all assemblies of students. It has a seating capacity of close to 3000, which can be greatly increased.

A SUNNY DAY ON YUKON AVENUE, A.-Y.-P. EXPOSITION, SEATTLE.

Yukon Avenue is one of the many ways leading to the Court of Honor of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition. It leads from the Cascades down to one of the many entrances to the Pay Streak and directly to the "café center" of the Fair Grounds.

All of these structures were completed before December 1, 1908. They are of the conventional exposition type of construction—plaster staff over heavy wooden framework.

NEWS OF WEEK FROM ALL THE COAST STATES

Occurrences Along the Pacific Slope Presented in Com- pendious Array.

Passing Events Among Your Neigh- bors Briefly Told in Short, Newsy Paragraphs.

Seattle.—Three thousand of the 8000 members of the Ancient Order of United Workmen were here last week to attend the Grand Lodge session and the world's fair.

Tacoma, Wash.—Stanley Klovberg, a sixteen-year-old boy, was electrocuted by a wire attached to a kite he was flying coming in contact with a high tension electric power wire.

Vallejo.—The First savings bank of Vallejo has been incorporated under the State laws with a capital stock of $40,000, and will conduct a general savings bank business in this city.

Sacramento.—California fruit is in greater demand in the East this year than for several years past, and the shortage of cars may result in a heavy loss to the growers. The Southern Pacific Company is rushing cars here, but is not now able to supply the big demand.

Los Angeles.—Paul J. C. Derkum, known as "Dare Devil Derkum," rode a 3 1/2 horsepower motorcycle 320 miles from Los Angeles to San Diego and return in the remarkable time of 10 hours, 59 minutes, 30 seconds, breaking the record held by Howard Shafer by 5 hours, 50 minutes and 30 seconds.

Oakland.—Despondent because of his inability to hold the affections of a white woman for whom he is alleged to have deserted his family in Los Angeles, Low Luke, a Chinese doctor, committed suicide. The reason for his suicide was related by several educated Chinese who accompanied him to the hospital.

San Jose.—After tunneling 270 feet into the hillside, C. Miller, a rancher near Edenvale, several miles south of San Jose, opened up a fine flow of fine, soft water, that has been steadily flowing 1000 gallons a minute ever since, and with no present indications of diminution. If the flow continues, the water will be of immense value.

Los Angeles.—General Charles Elmer Compton, U. S. A., retired, died at the home of his son, Paul E. Compton, in Hollywood several days ago. After his retirement from the Army, he came to California and has since resided here. He was born in 1836 in Morristown, N. J., and served in the Civil, Indian and Spanish-American wars.

Vallejo.—The North End Improvement Club of this city, which is composed of property owners in the thickly settled portion adjacent to the city limits, is circulating petitions preparatory to the calling of a special election for the purpose of annexing a district about two miles square to the city, which would add about 3000 people and much property to Vallejo.

McCloud.—As the result of the strike settlement agreed upon at McCloud in the fore part of last month, the McCloud Lumber Company has purchased 200 cabins belonging to the Italians at an average price of about $35. At the time of the strike there were about 750 Italians here. As a result of the settlement, 350, it is estimated, have gone. Italians new to the town are coming in every day.

Bakersfield.—A wild chase in an automobile across the arid plains near Visalia after a big coyote, resulting in the beast's death in a three mile run, was the unique tale brought here by Dr. L. E. Carter and two others of Visalia. The coyote was jumped near the road and the party ran the automobile after it, hitting the high spots and shooting with shotgun and revolvers at it without effect until the car ran the beast down.

Reno.—A party of Government surveyors under Moses Bailey, at work on the desert lands near Salisbury, Wash., Nevada and Ellensdale, are having serious difficulty with myriads of rattlesnakes, many of which have from ten to thirteen rattles each. Men who profess to know assert that 1,000 rattlers of the poisonous sort have been killed recently. The surveyors are much in fear of being attacked by them while they are engaged in their work.

NEW SPECIMEN OF INSECT PEST FOUND AT PASO ROBLES

Variety of Dreaded White Fly Makes its Appearance in Orange Groves.

Berkeley.—A discovery which is being viewed with interest by farmers and scientists all over the State has been made by Prof. C. W. Woodworth, head of the department of entomology of the university, in finding the dreaded white fly in Paso Robles.

The insect found there, however, is a new variety and is believed by Professor Woodworth to be entirely local and only found in the vicinity of Paso Robles. Whether the insect will prove to be as great a pest as the fly which devastated the orange groves of Oroville and Marysville last year is unknown, as the entomologists are now studying the habits of the fly found in large numbers in the south to determine this point.

Professor Woodworth reported that the white fly in Oroville was not present in such large quantities as last year, and the losses there would not be as great.

Forty Years Without Death in Family.

San Jose.—The death of Frank Frost, who was buried a few days ago was the first to occur in forty years in the Frost family, which includes, besides the father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Frost, fourteen children. Frank was killed by being hit in the stomach by a piece of flying timber in a local planing mill. The family is one of the best known in the Santa Clara valley, the father being a well-to-do rancher of Oak Grove, where he has resided for many years and where he accumulated part of his fortune.

Dredge Operations to Be Investigated.

Sacramento.—The outcome of the anti-dredge mining convention held in this city at the call of Mayor Clinton L. White was the adoption of a resolution authorizing the appointment of a committee of six to investigate the dredge operations along the American, Yuba and Feather rivers and to expostulate with those found to be working injury to the stream. If expostulation does no good, the committee is to report the matter to the Anti-Debris Association and the California Debris Commission for action.

To Study Viticulture.

Berkeley.—Work is to be initiated this year on a more comprehensive scale than heretofore by the department of agriculture of the University of California to raise the standard of grape growing in California, and especially of the wine grapes. Professor Frederick T. Bioletti, expert in viticulture, is to direct the work. He will be assisted by L. Bonnet, who arrived last week from France to take his position as assistant.

Death of Well-Known Politician.

Sacramento.—State Senator Gillis Doty died suddenly at Wilbur Springs a few days ago. He was one of Sacramento county's best-known citizens, prominent in public life, serving as State Senator and Supervisor, and held other political offices. He was an orator of magnetism, and at one time was a Campbellite minister. He was born in Davenport, O., seventy-three years ago, and leaves four sons.

Cholera on the Decline.

St. Petersburg.—The cholera situation seems well under control. After remaining stationary for several weeks with a maximum of 120 cases, the number of cases has gradually decreased until now there are less than fifty. Preventive inoculation, which was largely employed during 1908, has been discarded by the cholera experts as useless.

Hotel Robbers Captured.

Hoquiam, Wash.—Three masked robbers entered the hotel at Montesano, fifteen miles east of here, held up six men and got away with valuable plunder, including silverware and a quantity of clothing. The men were pursued by officers in an automobile and captured at Elma, a station nine miles east of Montesano.

Holds Record of Ball Games.

South Bend, Ind.—James "Lil" Sager, third baseman of the Evansville Central league team, holds a record that no other ball player has probably ever earned since the introduction of the national game. Since joining the Evansville squad he has played in 506 consecutive games.

Six Killed in Powder Explosion.

Easton, Pa.—Six men employed on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad were killed by an explosion near Blairstown, N. J., while attempting to dig up dynamite that had failed to explode. Two other men were badly hurt.

French Aeronaut Makes Voyage Across English Channel

Dover, England.—Louis Bleriot, a French aviator, crossed the English channel from a suburb of Calais, France, to Dover, England, early Sunday morning in an airship. The epoch making flight was made with one of the smallest monoplanes ever used. The voyage of more than 20 miles was concluded in less than half an hour, this being twice as swift a passage as the fastest mailboats. His speed approximated from 45 to 60 miles. Bleriot, by his voyage, won a $5,000 prize offered by a London newspaper. Bleriot's monoplane measured but 20 feet across, and with a 25 horsepower motor the entire machine weighed only 400 pounds.

When Bleriot landed two compatriots, who had been waving a big tri-colored flag as a signal for the landing place, fell upon him enthusiastically, embracing him, shouting and pounding him on the back. They, with a few soldiers and others who happened to be on the scene, were the only persons to witness the finish of a remarkable feat.

His friends took him quickly to the Old Lord Warden Hotel. Meanwhile his wife embraced him, weeping, but they were soon sitting at breakfast, the center of a proud gathering of French. The Mayor and other Dover officials welcomed M. Bleriot, in the name of the city and nation, as the pioneer of international flight.

Grain Cut When Green Proves of Superior Quality

Stockton. — While harvesting his grain crop, George Luhrs, the well-known West Side farmer, believes that he has discovered a new plan of handling wheat and barley. On his ranch he had a piece of ground that was low, and it was filled with water for a time early in the season, causing the grain to mature late. When it came time for cutting the grain the harvester went over the land without regard to the grain being matured on the wet place.

Luhrs at first believed that owing to the wheat being green it would prove valueless, but since that time he has changed his opinion. The wheat was heavy on the wet spot, and it was kept separate from the other grain. A close examination shows that it is the best quality of grain ever grown here, and quite a number of farmers who have examined it declare that it is the best ever produced in this part of the State.

Several growers are planning to make a change in harvesting next season and cut their grain early instead of waiting for it to fully mature, as has been the case ever since wheat and barley were grown in the valley.

"Bwana Tumbo" Has Collected Many Valuable Specimens

Naivasha, British East Africa.—The entire collection of specimens of the Roosevelt expedition now numbers 2000, covering mammals and birds of all sizes, from field mice to rhinoceri, and from small shrike to bustards. It also includes several thousand reptiles and insects. Roosevelt's last bull hippopotamus, which he shot recently in Lake Naivasha, measured fourteen feet.

Washington. — Former President Roosevelt's African hunting trip has resulted in the enriching of the National Zoological Park of Washington with an exceptional collection of live African birds and animals, many of which are not represented in the park exhibit. Roosevelt's visit to Juju Farm, near Nairobi, British East Africa, recently, where he and his party were guests of W. W. McMillan, an American owning the big estate, resulted in the presentation of a collection of live animals to the zoological park by Mr. McMillan through the Smithsonian African expedition.

Gypsy Uses Baby for Cudgel in Fierce Fight With Officers

New York.—Fourteen gypsies, six men and eight women, made a vicious fight against four immigration inspectors on pier 8, in Brooklyn, when they were forced aboard the Verdi to be deported to Buenos Ayres. The chief stripped a child of two years and used it as a club to beat the inspectors, while one woman threw her babe in arms at another. Men and women scratched and bit until the crowd that looked on had to go to the aid of the Ellis island men, who had to literally carry the hysterical and half-crazed gypsies aboard the vessel.

Once forced on board the chief held up to the view of the crowd on the pier the child he had used as a war club, and it was bleeding from eyes and nose. The woman who had thrown her baby held it forth and its head drooped over as if it were dead. Then the women passengers, who had watched the fight from the upper deck, sickened and rushed inside, where several nearly fainted.

Salinas Wins State Record for Quick Divorce Trial

Salinas.—What is believed to be the record for a quick divorce in California was made a few days ago in the Superior Court here, when Elizabeth W. Zabala was granted an interlocutory decree from Albert J. Zabala, son of a wealthy capitalist. The complaint was filed, summons issued and served, cause tried and judgment rendered within 10 minutes. The couple were married in San Jose four years ago, but separated within a month and have since lived apart.

California Fuel Oil Withstands Thorough Tests in Navy

Vallejo.—Extensive tests made at both the Mare Island and the Puget Sound navy yards as to the relative values of California fuel oil and Puget Sound coal for the navy have resulted in a big showing for oil in the way of economy. Oil is being used quite extensively in the shops on Mare Island and also on the monitor Cheyenne, and it is expected that within the next year many of the big cruisers of the Pacific fleet will be using oil as fuel.

Killed While Walking.

Chicago.—While taking one of the daily walks to which she credited her long life, Mrs. Elizabeth Hacker, 82 years old, was run down and killed by a street car several days ago.

City Hall Cornerstone Laid.

Chicago.—With ceremonies marked by simplicity and in which only city officials had a part, the cornerstone of Chicago's new $5,000,000 City Hall was laid last week.

HIGH SCHOOLS MUST BE SUPPORTED BY COUNTIES

New Law is Held to Place Maintenance in Boards of Supervisors.

Sacramento.—According to an opinion given to City Auditor Carey by Corporation Counsel R. Platanauer, in the future all expenses incurred for the maintenance of high schools must be paid by the county Boards of Supervisors and not by the city boards of trustees. Platanauer declares that prior to July 1, 1909, the duty of providing for the maintenance of city high schools devolved upon the city boards of trustees (Political Code, section 1670, subdivisions 14 and 15); but these sections of the Political Code were repealed (statutes 1909, page 498) and a new scheme relative to the government of high schools went into effect.

Under the law as it now stands it is the duty of the High School Board to make an estimate of the expenses needed and to submit it to the Supervisors, who shall levy a special tax in the high school district to raise the funds.

Gets Civil War Medal.

Ann Arbor, Mich.—Captain Joseph Kemp, a Civil War pensioner, has just received from Washington a bronze medal authorized by Congress in 1864, for bravery at the battle of the Wilderness. As a member of Company F, Fifth Michigan Volunteers, Kemp dashed into the ranks of the enemy and captured the flag of the Thirty-first North Carolina Regiment, tearing it away from the staff, which the Southern color-bearer held securely. How the delivery of the medal came to be delayed so many years is not known here.

Forest Fire Stops Electric Supply.

Los Angeles.—A few days ago all the cars on the streets and all machinery drawing electricity from the Kern river power plant suddenly stopped. The trouble was located on the Newhall division, and men sent out found that a forest fire had swept under the transmission line, but had not destroyed either poles or wires. The explanation is that fire is a conductor of electricity and the flames led the current to the ground, "shorting" the line until the blaze subsided. Then everything moved as usual.

American Factory for Australia.

Melbourne, Australia.—Official papers explaining the acceptance by the Commonwealth Government of the tender of Pratt & Whitney, an American firm, for the erection of a small arms factory in Australia, show that British firms which made tenders were hopelessly outclassed. One English tender was $500,000, as against $340,000 bid by the Americans, and required three years to build as compared with the American firm's one year.

To Advertise Sacramento Valley.

Sacramento.—Representatives from all parts of the Sacramento Valley and adjoining foothills decided unanimously to raise $250,000 to be expended within the next five years on a basis of $50,000 a year in advertising the resources of the valley. The money is to be raised by both taxation and by subscription. It will be handled by the Sacramento Valley Development Association.

His Father Wrote "America."

Des Moines, Ia.—The Iowa board of pardons recommended an unconditional pardon for Samuel Francis Smith, son of the author of the hymn "America," who was convicted five years ago and sentenced to the penitentiary for 11 years on charges of perjury, larceny and embezzlement. Smith, now 72 years old, formerly was mayor of Davenport.

Justifiable Homicide.

McCloud.—A Coroner's jury in the inquest upon the body of Arthur Jones of Keswick, who was stabbed to death by William Woods, returned a verdict of justifiable homicide. Witnesses testified that Woods, who is an old man, was being attacked by Jones with a club, and that he used his knife only to save his own life.

Detectives Sent to Prison.

Kovno, Russia.—Two agents of the Russian secret police were convicted on the charge of preparing a bomb with the intention of depositing it in the lodgings of a workman on whom they desired to throw suspicion and were sentenced to three and a half years' imprisonment.

Rich Lace Smuggled in Steerage.

New York.—Two trunks which were recently taken to Ellis island with the baggage of steerage passengers have been found to contain about $5000 worth of laces, and the customs officers are perplexed as to the identity of their owner.

PITHY RESUME OF EVENTS OF ENTIRE WORLD

Brief Paragraphs That Give Busy Readers Review of Week's Happenings.

Summary of News Gathered by Cor- respondents Located in Every Quarter of the Globe.

Gastine, Astoria.—E. H. Harriman's health continues to improve. He is devoting a portion of his time to his business affairs.

Langendreer, Prussia.—Sixteen miners were killed by the explosion of fire damp in a mine at Mansfield. Many other workmen were taken from the mine unconscious.

Chicago.—Great difficulty is being reported by railroads serving the Northwest in meeting the heavy demands made as a result of travel to the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition.

Varez, Lombardy.—Emperor Francis Joseph telegraphed his permission for the burial in St. Just Church, at Trieste, of the body of Don Carlos of Bourbon, the pretender to the Spanish throne.

St. Petersburg.—The Russian Government has offered to the former Shah of Persia as a residence, the palace at Kaluga, built by Empress Catherine for the last Khan of the Crimean Tartars.

Chicago.—Dr. Daniel K. Pearsons has given his check for $50,000 to the City Missionary Society of Chicago. This is in line with his announcement, made some time ago, that he would give his last million dollars to institutions of Chicago.

Washington.—The department of the interior has classified as coal land and restored to the public domain certain unappropriated lands in the Evanston land district, Wyoming, fixing the price for disposal of the tracts there in some cases as high as $500 per acre.

Berlin. — A company has been formed here for the purpose of erecting a great airship garage, with landing and testing grounds. As the company is interested in dirigible balloons, it designs to lease about 1600 acres near Berlin, where it will erect great sheds and repair shops.

Chicago.—Thomas A. Cahill, 60 years old, a retired architect, died recently in a barber's chair. Heart disease is believed to be the cause. The barber was applying a few finishing touches to the face of the customer when Mr. Cahill suddenly grew pale, gasped and stiffened out in the reclining chair.

St. Petersburg.—The committee in charge of the Russian naval fund collected during the Russo-Japanese war by popular subscription has decided to construct with the remainder of the fund a torpedo cruiser and a submarine boat. The total amount of money collected was $8,550,000 and 19 ships were built.

Washington.—Establishing a new record for aviation in America, Orville Wright, in the Wright aeroplane several days ago at Fort Myer, made a spectacular flight of one hour, twenty minutes and forty-five seconds. The longest previous flight was of seventy-four minutes, made by Wright at Fort Myer last fall.

London.—The success of several suffragettes in obtaining their release from prison by carrying out a "hunger strike" has caused all of the suffragettes in Holloway jail to adopt this method of gaining their freedom. Miss Elsie MacKenzie was discharged from prison in a critical condition, having gone 151 hours without food.

Boise, Idaho.—Harry Orchard, murderer of former Governor Steunenberg of Idaho, according to his confession, was last week baptized at the penitentiary. The service was read by Elder Steward of the Seventh Day Adventist Church. Orchard is a devout convert and feels his sins have been forgiven. He says he is content to remain behind the prison walls for the remainder of his natural life.

Washington.—Instead of shaking hands across a painted boundary on the bridge at El Paso next September, President Taft and President Diaz will exchange visits, the former crossing into Mexico and the latter setting foot on the soil of the United States. The State Department is making arrangements for the meeting. It will take place during President Taft's Western trip some time after September 15th, for it will be necessary for the Mexican President to obtain the permission of the Mexican Congress, which meets on that date, to leave his country.

DEATH BY ELECTRICITY.

As a Painless Method of Execution Not Yet Beyond Criticism.

You have had recently, in the United States, many discussions as to the humaneness of electrocution, the result being to show that your system of dealing out death for criminal offenses is not beyond criticism, says Francis Marre, French scientist, in the New York World. When you first invented this method of doing your criminals to death you began by experimenting on calves and oxen. These animals quickly succumbed to the shocks given them. As a consequence you thought that in the case of a man results would be the same. You have found out that conditions are not at all the same.

When a man is killed by accident—that is to say, when he is stricken down before he has had time to think of the catastrophe and prepare his mind for it—he drops like the unthinking bullock to which a shock has been administered. When the condemned man is led out to execution, however, his relative strength, or vibratory energy, both mental and bodily, undergoes a great change toward the death-dealing current. Whether he wishes it or not, his instinct of self-preservation makes him assert himself and in reality he measures his own strength against that of the current, which has been prepared to deal with him as if he were in a normal condition. As a matter of fact, the nervous strength which he naturally exerts is proportionate to the consciousness that the supreme moment of his life has come. At this moment the mental terror of the victim exceeds all other feeling, and almost wholly deadens the physical sense.

In many a case in which persons have survived lightning strokes no especially painful sensation has been recorded. In cases, however, where experimenting surgeons have submitted themselves to electrical shocks in order to test the efficacy of electrocution to within reasonable limits, the patient on issuing from the sleep or stupor brought on by the voltage has confessed that during the experiment he was conscious of a total paralysis of the bodily and mental functions long before his consciousness disappeared. He could see that he was disappearing from the world. Naturally, nothing beyond this could be attempted without endangering the patient's life.

The question, then, whether electrocution is a torment or a painless death remains open. As such it cannot be said to have justified itself, and, in the interests of humaneness, a more certain method of killing criminals should be devised.

"English Is What She Speaks."

Mrs. Banks was just getting ready to go out while her patient husband waited in the doorway, watching her complete her toilet. By the extraordinary contortions of her neck he concluded that she was trying to get a glimpse of the back of her new blouse, and by the tense lines about her lips he concluded that her mouth was full of pins. A writer in the Toledo Blade tells the story.

"Umph—goog—nuff—wuff—sh—fispog?" she asked.

"Yes, dear," he agreed. "It looks all right."

"Out—wun—so—gs—ph—mf—ugh—light?" was her next remark.

"Perhaps it would look better if you did that," he nodded; "but it fits very nicely as it is."

She gasped and emptied the pins into her hands.

"I've asked you twice to raise the blinds so that I can get more light, James!" she exclaimed. "Can't you understand plain English?"

Confidence Game.

Man With the Bulging Brow—What are you scowling about?

Man With the Bulbous Nose—I'd like to punch your head for you. You told me I ought to read "References of a Bachelor." I got it at the public library and put in an hour or two trying to read it, and there ain't the first blamed word in the book, from first to last, about prize fighting!

His Time to Be Alone.

"Come away, children," said their mother. "Run out in the yard and play."

ORIGIN OF THE DOG.

In His Wolf Days He Was a Hanger-On of the Camps of Men.

As to the origin of the dog we should be inclined to conjecture, says the Abolitionist, that the presence of wolves as hangers on of the camps of primitive man suggested to him the possibility of their domestication, and then by feeding them directly from his hand when hard pressed by hunger, or by taking charge of and bringing up the wolf cubs, some wolves became domesticated, as they seem to be now among the Indians and Eskimos, and from these domesticated wolves the dog race of that region was gradually evolved, choice in breeding being employed to develop the qualities most useful to man.

It must be remembered that the remarkable thing about the dog is not the survival of its primary instinct, the instinct of the chase, but the substitution as a dominant motive of some ruling aim outside itself adopted to please its master and friend, man. To illustrate what we mean, let us take the collie or sheep dog, which, as we have seen, comes very directly from the wolf and retain the physical evidence of this origin. The dominant instinct of the wolf is to chase and kill and eat sheep whenever he sees them, but this dominant natural instinct, while it does break out in an occasional collie, is yet in the great majority of collies completely overcome by a desire to satisfy his master's confidence and merit his master's approval by showing himself to be the guardian, protector and guide of the flock. The failure of a few collies, the success of the majority, to resist the primary instinct to chase and kill the sheep, the foresight and skill with which the guilty dogs endeavor to conceal their sins, their evident consciousness of guilt, their almost human shame when discovered, point to a moral nature in the making.

When we come to think of it the whole-hearted devotion of the collie to his divinity—man—and to what the dog nature knows of the moral law reads often a much-needed lesson to his master. A collie has been known to remain without food guarding the flock and to be found by his master after days of starvation deliberately endured rather than leave his charge, only able to crawl to his feet and die. Even the strong maternal instinct has been unable to overcome the collie's sense of duty, and a collie, in charge of sheep, that has pupped on the way has repeatedly been proved true to her charge, giving her primary attention to the flock and her secondary attention to her puppies. The capacity for enforcing order and discipline in the flock is another very human and very remarkable quality in the collie, not derived, apparently, from its wolf ancestry. The collie knows the art of government. His woolly dependents are trained to obey his slightest orders and to accept his will as law. He rules them resolutely but kindly and while he punishes insubordination, will risk his life to protect them. The sheep dog in foreign lands, for instance, in the Spanish Pyrenees or the Sierra, will unsparingly face the wolf or even the bear, with a kingly readiness to sacrifice himself in defense of his otherwise defenseless subjects.

The classified ads in another column are interesting.

As He Understood It.

"Billy," said the information editor, "I wish you would go over to the public library and get a copy of 'Notes Ambrosy' by Tell them it's for me."

"Yes, sir," said the office boy.

Five minutes later he was at the public library.

"What do you want, little boy?" asked one of the attendants.

"I want a copy of 'Knock Knead Ambrosy Annie,'" said Billy. "It's for Mr. Askme."

Arrangement of Wealth.

"What's them apples worth?" asked the farmer, stopping in front of a fruit stand.

"In that pile?" said the proprietor of the stand. "Five cents apiece."

"So? Well, I guess I'll eat about a dime's worth."

Thereupon he took two big red apples out of a capacious pocket in his overcoat and strolled on, placidly munching one of them.—Chicago Tribune.

The Truth Comes Out.

"Please, mister, help a pore cripple," whined the husky hobo.

"Sure," rejoined the kindly old gentleman, as he handed out a quarter. "How are you crippled, my poor fellow?"

"Financially, mister," replied the hobo, as he pocketed the quarter and made a hurried getaway.

contemplating a shorthand or business course should send to GALLAGHER-MARSH BUSINESS COLLEGE, 1257 Market street, for literature containing the views of the PRESS OF SAN FRANCISCO on the marvelous proficiency attained by the students of this college, as demonstrated before Judge Cabaniss and the press on June 26, 1909, when they wrote in shorthand over 200 words per minute on strange matter. Just think of it? Girls 15 to 17 years old writing over 200 words per minute, and being also competent bookkeepers. This wonderful skill is due to superiority of GALLAGHER-MARSH shorthand system and also the fact that Mr. Gallagher actually imparts his world record stenographic skill to his students.

Not Traveling Inoc.

"Hi, there!" said the park policeman. "Keep off the grass!"

The weary wayfarer who was lying in the shade of a huge oak tree turned his head languidly and looked at the sparrow cop.

"If you're talkin' to me, awficer," he said, "me name ain't Keepoff de Grass. I ain't no nobleman in rejoyced circumstances. I'm an independent American citizen, an' me name's Wareham Long."

Rolling a little farther away from the encroaching sunshine, he closed his eyes and went to sleep again.—Chicago Tribune.

STUDENTS

contemplating a shorthand or business course should send to GALLAGHER-MARSH BUSINESS COLLEGE, 1257 Market street, for literature containing the views of the PRESS OF SAN FRANCISCO on the marvelous proficiency attained by the students of this college, as demonstrated before Judge Cabaniss and the press on June 26, 1909, when they wrote in shorthand over 200 words per minute on strange matter. Just think of it? Girls 15 to 17 years old writing over 200 words per minute, and being also competent bookkeepers. This wonderful skill is due to superiority of GALLAGHER-MARSH shorthand system and also the fact that Mr. Gallagher actually imparts his world record stenographic skill to his students.

As He Understood It.

"Billy," said the information editor, "I wish you would go over to the public library and get a copy of 'Notes Ambrosy' by Tell them it's for me."

"Yes, sir," said the office boy.

Five minutes later he was at the public library.

"What do you want, little boy?" asked one of the attendants.

"I want a copy of 'Knock Knead Ambrosy Annie,'" said Billy. "It's for Mr. Askme."

Arrangement of Wealth.

"What's them apples worth?" asked the farmer, stopping in front of a fruit stand.

"In that pile?" said the proprietor of the stand. "Five cents apiece."

"So? Well, I guess I'll eat about a dime's worth."

Thereupon he took two big red apples out of a capacious pocket in his overcoat and strolled on, placidly munching one of them.—Chicago Tribune.

The Truth Comes Out.

"Please, mister, help a pore cripple," whined the husky hobo.

"Sure," rejoined the kindly old gentleman, as he handed out a quarter. "How are you crippled, my poor fellow?"

"Financially, mister," replied the hobo, as he pocketed the quarter and made a hurried getaway.

FIFTEENTH YEAR, No. 3

Where is that night-watchman?
He is needed around here.

If the man who started that moving picture show had waited until now, he'd make some money.

The recent achievements by the Wright Bros. and others lead me to think that by the time our natural resources are exhausted airships will be perfected and we can fly to some other planet. We'll have to probably.

Can't the Improvement Club get enthusiastic about something. We will have to toot our own horn or belong in the has-beens.

There is a good opportunity for some energetic person to start a laundry here in Campbell. Three wagons from San Jose come here every week and go back loaded with laundry. Somebody could make good money at it if they will establish a plant here.

Permanent Industries

Wouldn't you like to be able to do as much business this winter as you are doing now? There's a way. Why is it that Campbell has a great number of people in the summer and a small population in the winter? Simply because there is work for many in the summer and few in the winter. Why? Because Campbell has no all-the-year industry.

There is no reason for this. Campbell is just as favorably located as any of the towns within a radius of 25 miles which have employment the year round for their population. A factory of some kind or some sort of a manufacturing concern would be the best thing that could happen to Campbell. Everybody would feel the effect. The people here could make no better move than to offer a piece of ground to some manufacturing concern to build on. They would get their money back ten-fold in time. Can there not be some agitation along this line? Think it over.

Conservation and the Bible

While discussing the question of "Conservation of Natural Resources," with one of my subscribers, this person said something to the effect that there was no use trying to save our resources as everything in the Bible points toward an early destruction of the Universe.
This is not so. The Bible does not show any such thing except to those who choose to twist the meaning of the Word. But granting that the Bible does show this, does it not refer time and again to the necessity of thrift and of saving everything we have? We have no right to destroy that which is not ours. Natural Resources do not belong to us, they are merely loaned to us while we are on earth. They are here for our children's use as well as our own, and we have no right to destroy them.
